Description

John Kubasek has already won over countless knife enthusiasts with his highly creative designs and has become known around the world for his innovative pocket knives. Now the experienced knifemaker from the USA has implemented an even more compact backup pocket knife and presented us with the 24-gram Dog Tag Knife. With a thickness of only about four millimeters, it can be comfortably worn around the neck on a ball chain, just like its namesake.

The single-sided chisel grind of the blade, which allows the flat back of the cutting edge to lie as close as possible to the titanium plate, contributes to maximum safety when carrying and using the knife. In addition, a sophisticated magnetic mechanism secures the Neck Knife both when closed and when open. The mechanism is not based purely on magnetic force, but on a solid locking. This prevents accidental opening even during dynamic sporting activities. The back of the titanium plate is perfect for laser engraving of the name, nickname or even medical data and other information. With black ball chain.
