Description

Connoisseurs regard the silver-tipped badger brush as the high-water mark: Only the best, carefully selected badger bristles are used for these fully hand-made shaving brushes. The precious natural materials are particularly soft and flexible. The conically tapered shaft of the individual bristle permits particularly large amounts of shaving cream to be absorbed and fed to the tips. Yet another hallmark of quality is the so-called "mirror" - a black belt that runs through the predominantly silver sheen of the bristle. The grip is made from precious resin. Its special density and hardness make this material a "natural" as a wet shaving accessory. The glossy chrome inlays provide an appealing contrast to the dark grain.
