Description

The Chiruca Mistral Gore-Tex boots are made from nubuck and nappa leather. The inside is lined with a Gore-Tex® membrane that simultaneously protects against wind, moisture and allows the shoes to breathe. Reinforced toes and rear. Thinsulate lining. Removable antibacterial warming midsoles. The Vibram® Schwarzwald rubber sole is non-slip and provides excellent grip on any surface.

Vibram sole:

Non-slip sole made by the Italian company Vibram S.p.A. Made for mountaineering. All VIBRAM soles provide maximum grip on any surface and also withstand temperature fluctuations well. Because of these features, more than 1,000 shoe manufacturers use VIBRAM soles.

Gore-Tex membrane:

The membrane material does not allow moisture and wind to pass through. The membrane is made up of tiny pores, each about 20,000 times smaller than a drop of water, but 700 times larger than a particle of water vapor. Because of this feature, GORE-TEX is widely used in the production of clothing and footwear. It prevents the formation of sweat condensate inside, at the same time it protects against external moisture. Generally, GORE-TEX consists of three layers: an outer layer that protects against friction, a middle layer that allows the membrane to function successfully for a long time, an inner layer that protects against sweat and dirt
