Description

Trooper is an extremely lightweight soft shell outer layer - sort of Gunfighter's little brother. It was designed with service use in mind, but we know it is as popular with the mere civilians looking for a light, yet functional and quality garments. It can be used as a stand-alone item or outer layer.

This jacket protects from light wind and rain, while still being highly breathable. The collar-stowed hood can be deployed fast and easy due to a two-way zipper and is adjustable to fit other headgear or equipment (e.g. headset). Seven pockets ready to stow lots of essentials evenly. Two zippered breast pockets have organizers and lanyard D-rings. Internal pocket is Velcro-closed. Two zippered upper-sleeve pockets have wiring eyelets. Left lower sleeve has a zippered pocket as well. And finally, there is a large loin channel pocket at the lower back, zippered from both ends. Anatomic cut adjusts to the wearer movements, and elbow reinforcements make them more rugged. It is easily compressible, making it easy to transport in a bag, backpack or even a cargo pocket.
