Description

The exclusive purse has only one main compartment, in which you can also store banknotes in addition to coins if you wish. The noble polished cowhide is processed in the "used look", for this reason every coin pouch is to be regarded as unique. Color deviations are quite common with natural products. Each bag is closed with a tie. In this way, the nostalgic impression of the wallet is additionally underlined. In the Middle Ages, the leather coin pouch was worn close to the body to protect against thieves. Today you can carry the high-quality bag for coins and bills from the manufacturer Greenburry VINTAGE in your handbag, teacher's bag or briefcase. The elegant look of the cowhide pouch always catches the eye, is a topic of conversation and of course also a practical accessory for young and old. The decorative purse can be used by women and men alike, it is a versatile unisex product that is great to combine.
